Name the Need- Deep Analysis Guide

Ask Yourself About the Question Items:

- What were the questions about? Is this something the students learned?
- Which question items were students successful at?
- What is the type of question? (Factual, Critical Thinking, Inferential, Multi-step, etc.)
- Did the question hold the students back? (Did students understand the task at hand?)
 - This is a very common holdback!
- Did the student need any schema in order to be successful at the task?

Ask Yourself About the Skill:

- What strategy should students have used to attack this question?
 - Did they deeply internalize the strategy
- Did they have enough practice applying the strategy?

Individual Analysis and Groupings Guide

Use the Individual Analysis and Groupings guide to see your students as more than a number on an assessment. Group your students by their common need to maximize classroom instruction time!
